

Alfoil

Alfoil

Alfoil is a company based in Guatemala, Central America, dedicated to the manufacturing and distribution of disposable aluminum packaging, as well as aluminum foil rolls for domestic use and food services. The company was established to meet the growing demands for these products in America and the Caribbean, offering a local alternative that reduces costs and price fluctuations compared to maritime transport from China or other distant countries.

We have last-generation production lines that offer flexibility to adapt to the specific needs of our customers. Our manufacture facility is based at 30 kilometers from Puerto Quetzal on the Pacific coast and 380 kilometers from the ports of Santo Tomás and Puerto Barrios on the Atlantic coast.

Guatemala's geographic location, in the heart of Central America, provides several advantages:

- Access to the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.
- Proximity to North and South America, as well as Central American and Caribbean markets.
- Free Trade Agreements with the United States, Mexico, and several countries in Central and South America, which gives us a significant competitive advantage in the region.

At Alfoil, we understand that our clients' success is fundamental to our growth. Therefore, we are committed to providing high-quality products and exceptional service that allows you to optimize your operations and reduce costs. By choosing us as your supplier, you not only obtain top-notch disposable packaging and aluminum foil rolls, but also a strategic partner who cares about your needs and the sustainable development of your businesses.

Alfoil
